Finding Articles in Opposing Viewpoints in Context

Opposing Viewpoints in Context is a general database that contains Viewpoint essays that express an opinion in addition to articles from newspapers, magazines, academic journals, and many other sources.

To get to Opposing Viewpoints in Context start on the UA-PTC Libraries Home page:
http://www.uaptc.edu/library
- Click on Databases A-Z and scroll down the alphabetical list.
- Click on Opposing Viewpoints in Context.

Opposing Viewpoints in Context opens to a Basic Search screen with a single search box.

To see how Opposing Viewpoints in Context works, let’s look for articles on fracking.

Type the topic, fracking, in the search box. Then click the Search button.

The results page features a short summary of your topic, followed by links to the top articles from the various source types listed in the On this Page menu. Click on the underlined article title to view the full text.

A citation in MLA format is located at the bottom of the full-text view under Source Citation. Verify this MLA formatted citation with your instructor before using it in your Works Cited page.